HONGKONG, THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1891. THE election for the Sanitary Board resulted as was to be expected. The two old members who did good service on the Board were returned by a large majority. The third candidate really never showed that he had any claim to take the place of either. He did not dispute the value of their work, and he had no new programme to present

He came forward first in the interest of the speech at yesterday's meeting he said not a word about his representative quality, basing his claim on personal merits. The most encouraging feature of the election is the large number of electors who recorded their vote. A poll of 256 out of a total of 445 voters would be regarded as a fair proportion even at home, and consist that the Canadian Pacific R. We hear that an invitation has been received by the Hongkong Cricket Club from the Shanghai Cricket Club to send a team to Shanghai at the most suitable date, the middle of September being suggested, which is the best time of the year for cricket in Shanghai. There may be the additional attraction of meeting a team from Japan, thus permitting a triangular set of matches. An effort, we believe, is being made in Hongkong to get up a team. It is, at the same time, Shanghai's turn to visit Hongkong.

A CORRESPONDENT in Amoy writes to us on the 15th inst. as follows :- Another failure Insurance, a tea hong and native bank. A brother, who is compradore of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank here, is involved. It is old Tuck Suey's family. The liabilities are said to be $450,000, but some say $600,000. I am not sure which sum is correct. It was also reported that the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank was victimised again, but I have since heard that they are fully covered by securities.

THE use of Rhea grass, which is produced on a large scale in India and the Straits and of which as many as three crops can be obtained in a year, has hitherto been very limited owing to the difficulty of cleaning the grass, We believe that a process for cleaning it has now been hit upon at Home, which has given most satisfactory results. The grass when cleaned can be converted into innumerable useful articles, from a cambric handkerchief to a ship's awning. Already a company is being formed to take up the industry, which may become a very profitable source of wealth The P. & O. s. s. Pekin, with the English | for the Straits Settlements.

THE Straits Times of 11th inst. says :- The German steamer Lydia which came in this morning from Penang, while taking up her position at the Borneo Wharf collided with the steamer Asama. Nicam left Singapore wharf, striking her about midships. Both yessels are slightly damaged.

Some little surprise has been created in legal circles by the statement in our issue of 10th inst. says the Straits Times, that the Attorney-General of Hongkong has filled the acting post of Colonial Secretary there. It may be convenient therefore to point out that the appointment is of a temporary nature, that the Hongkong Attorney General has a salary materially less than that of the Straits Attorney General, and that the former is not allowed the private practice which is believed to be lucrative source of income to the Hou. J. W. Bonser. Thus it may suit the Hongkong Attorney-General to accept a class of appointment, the acceptance of which would be a financial loss to the Straits Attorney-General, spart from any question of professional prospects.

A TRAVELLER in Hunan writes in the N.-C.

Daily News :- The position which the literati occupy in China is peculiar, and the part they play in affairs is constantly forced upon one's attention. As all know, those of them who have obtained their degree are freed from the usual method of control, the hamboo, at the dispossi of the district magistrate. This practically places thesi above the law, and a similar privilege is disimed by them, not only for all members of the fraternity, whether they have degrees or not, but for the servants and coolies which they bring with them to an examination. It is not at all a had idea that there should be some counterpoise to the almost unlimited and irresponsible authority of the district magistrate, over ordinary affairs and ordinary folks, and nowhere could such be better found than in the great hody. of the learned. The result, however, is thousands, and tens of thousands of potty tyrants are created who infeat every city. town, and hamlet, in the Empire. When they come together for an examination their behaviour is often such as makes it hard to understand how the people can endure it. On such operations repectable families leave the city altogother in large numbers Women must keep themselves more closely secladed than ever. Business men and officials have to make any sacrifics rather than offend them, while the luckless foreigner may look out for stormy times. In anying this one does not access the men ac much as the system. The student class in every country is proverbial for its rowdy character, and let it be provided that this properaity for mischief might be indulged in with impunity, and the result would not be beneficial to good government anywhere. As anti-foreignism is the badge of all the tribe, more or less. it is well for foreigners to keep out of their

I may say that my mind-and I think probably the minds of all the members of the Committee-is perfectly open to receive suggestions either pro or con, the subject which will be discussed. I cate any interference by Government or law in the conduct of commercial operahave of Government interference the better. (Applause.) The bill on which I understand the ordinance now sought to be passed is founded is what is known as Leeman's Act, which was passed in the United Kingdom in 1865 or 1866, and its object. so far as my memory serves me, was to stop a class of persons who were called wreckers in the street rained you want to know the and failures are caused. Of course if you ask me bent on getting money which they never order to cause a run on the banks for their destruction. If the bill that is sought to lines as that, it appears to me there is aliardly a necessity for it, because of the various banking institutions in this colony; of depreciating that which was sold. I read sold a share since. I think | well perambulating Queen's Road. As the in this colony in the sense in which it was nassed in the United Kingdom does not chandise appear to me to be needed. No doubt, however, those who are in favour of the bill will be able to show that there is some strong necessity for it. The actual or what I may call the normal trade of the colony, so far as my observation goes, is not one whit depreciated from what it was some years ago. The present depression we so often refer to appears to me to be caused solely by a mania which seems to prevail not only in Honkong but in many other places in the East periodically We suffer from it and we recover from it, and this time we appear to have taken it rather badly; but if we legislate for the stoppage of undue speculation in shares, let us see that it is not done in a way that will hurt the true interests and progress of the colony. No doubt there must be many bona fide transactions in shares which occur every day, and to apply a law to regulate them appears to me to be travelling outside the scope of what is required. But, as I said, there is not the slightest doubt that we shall be shown some reasons for this by those who are in favour of this bill; would only make one more remark in the shape of a suggestion, and that is this, if it be sought to check what are called time bargains it appears to me that probably a speech, said that to-morrow he was to less drastic measure than what is proposed | oppose the Bill as the Counsel for the would meet the case.
